This is an open comment about opening the Canadian and United States border to Canadian infected cattle. The United States does not have BSE in our cattle except for the one that was imported into this country from Canada. I am referring to any and all parts of their cattle, we do not want infected cattle allowed into this country. We do not want their trash.

There is already much too much Canadian cattle in this country.

Anyone allowing importation of Canadian cattle is a traitor to this country and should be Terred and Feathered at the very least.

What kind of thinking would even consider letting infected cattle into a country that has none of this infection? Dollar Signs for brains?

I oppose opening the border to Import^{RECEIVED}
Canadian Beef in any form
